The ergonomic handle for single use - suitable for all our injection, biopsy and aspiration needles. The use of high-quality materials guarantees a high and stable puncture force and thus ensures safe and reliable treatment - both for the user and the patient. Due to our long experience in the development and production of medical products, the products you receive are perfectly mature.

It is our aim to continuously develop and optimise the quality of our products. This enables us to meet the constantly growing requirements for maximum precision and efficient use.
